

Conservatory of the Arts Happenings

February / March 2011

Presidents' Day Holiday

The Conservatory will be closed on Presidents' Day, Monday, February 21.

Dance Master Class by Gerard Ebitz

Friday, February 25, at 1:00 p.m., Rosita Segovia Theater

Mr. Ebitz danced professionally with the New York City Ballet and was a founding member of Miami City Ballet. He was a principal dancer in the Pacific Northwest Ballet and the Zurich Ballet. He has received world-recognition for his choreography and teaching and has been on the faculty of New World School of the Arts since 1988.

The class will be a complete barre and centre, accompanied by live music. Immediately following the class we will be treated to a presentation of one of his pieces to be performed by a group of his college students. Parents are welcomed to attend.
Registration fee: $10.00 per person.

Spanish Dance Master Class by Marisol Moreno

Tuesday, March 22, at 1:00 p.m., Rosita Segovia Theater

Our guest Spanish Dance teacher, Marisol Moreno, will be conducting a Master Class in March. Stay tuned for more details!

Miami's Premier Master Class Series

The Conchita Espinosa Conservatory will present a Master Class on Sunday, March 27. There is limited space, so interested students are encouraged to apply early. The class is for intermediate and advanced students only and it is open to male and female dancers.

There will be three guest master teachers:

Victoria Schneider

Harid Conservatory

Donald Toli

Elmhurst School (Birmingham Royal Ballet), England
New Tampa Dance Theatre

Richard Chen See

Paul Taylor Dance Company (1993-2008)

Classes will be from 10:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. for students interested in registering for the full day, but it is also possible to register for morning or afternoon classes only.

To take advantage of the early registration discount, your registration form and tuition fee must be turned in on or before March 18.

Go to www.conchitaespinosa.com for full details and tuition rates in our Conservatory site.
